

E-Waste Disposal in the Corvallis Area

Provided by your Recycling Block Captain, Fall 2023

Why recycle electronic waste?

- Because it's the law! In Oregon, many types of electronics are banned from landfills.
- E-waste contains toxic materials that can be harmful to human health and the environment. Responsible recycling keeps toxic chemicals from threatening people and contaminating our planet.
- E-waste recycling saves landfill space, conserves valuable metals, and reduces mining, saving energy and resources.

Oregon E-Cycles: It's the Law!

What is Oregon E-Cycles?

Oregon E-Cycles is a mandated statewide recycling program, funded by electronics manufacturers and coordinated by the Oregon DEQ.

Did you know?
Since 2009, 297 million pounds of e-waste has been recycled!

What's covered by the law?

It is illegal to dispose of certain e-waste in your trash and could lead to $500 fines. Recycle these items at Oregon E-Cycle dropsites instead:

- Computers (desktops, laptops, tablets)
- Monitors
- Keyboards
- Mice
- Printers
- TVs
- Cords for these devices

How many items & where?

The law provides free recycling for up to seven approved items per day. Dropsites may accept more than seven items; call ahead. Find collection sites and more info at <http://tiny.cc/OregonE-Cycles>.

Some locations may accept additional e-waste items. Check before dropping off.

What happens to e-waste?

Non-reusable items will be disassembled and recycled; the rest may be donated for reuse, depending on the location.

Official Local E-Cycle Dropsites

If you recycle electronics elsewhere, we recommend you ask the site about:

- What happens to their materials downstream?
- What human and environmental health standards they follow?
